LANDMARK CONFERENCE

The Landmark Conference is a NCAA Division III athletics conference, formed in December of 2005 in an effort to bring together colleges and universities from the Mid-Atlantic region with similar philosophies regarding the role of athletics as part of the overall collegiate experience. On June 6, 2006, it was announced that The Catholic University of America, Drew University, Goucher College, Juniata College, Moravian College, Susquehanna University and the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy had formed a soon-to-be-named conference, with the University of Scranton becoming the eighth member in November of 2006. Elizabethtown College officially joined the conference on July 1, 2014.

The most literal inspiration for the Landmark Conference's name comes from the many well-known physical landmarks of the Mid-Atlantic region encompassed by the conference. The name also reflects the significance of the institutions' decision to align themselves with other colleges and universities of similar size, educational philosophies and high academic standards.

The conference sponsors championships in field hockey, men's and women's soccer, women's volleyball and men's and women's cross country in the fall, men's and women's basketball, men's and women's swimming & diving and men's and women's indoor track & field during the winter and baseball, softball, men's and women's golf, men's and women's lacrosse, men's and women's tennis and men's and women's outdoor track & field in the spring. The Landmark features perennial national powers in nearly every sport.

The conference's eight institutions are spread throughout the Mid-Atlantic region, stretching from northern Pennsylvania to Washington, D.C. in the south. The geographic diversity creates even greater opportunity for growth for the Landmark's student-athletes.
